BYLAWS

The By-laws are the rules adopted by the association chiefly for the governance of its members and the regulation of its affairs. By-laws must be approved by the members of the association and govern the general organization of the association. Bylaws include rules concerning the categories of membership, election of directors, organization of the association, and amendment of existing Bylaws.

ARTICLE I — MEMBERSHIP (see Standing Rules, Section I, Membership for more information)

Section 1. There shall be three classes of membership: Club Membership, Individual Membership, and Family Membership. All membership, with the exception of Life Members (see Article I, Section 4.c, and Standing Rules Section I.B.2.e), must pay annual dues to the AVA in order to remain current. Life members shall pay a one-time fee to the AVA.

Section 2. The Board of Directors, or the Treasurer acting subject to the oversight of the Board of Directors, may revoke and/or may decline to accept annual dues of any Member of the AVA who does not conform to such regulations and requirements as shall from time to time be adopted by the Board of Directors.

APPENDIX D

DESCRIPTION OF GOLD/SILVER/BRONZE, SENIOR, JUNIOR AND A/B TEAM, SENIOR AND JUNIOR TEAM COMPULSORY EXERCISES (2* and 3*)

MOUNT: Vaulters run along the longe line out to the horse's shoulder. Before taking the grips, the vaulter's hips and shoulders should be parallel with the horse's shoulders. After taking the grips, the vaulter jumps forward onto both feet, lowers his head and upper body and swings his right leg up immediately, as high as possible, lifting the pelvis higher than the head. The left leg should remain stretched down, and the body should remain facing forward (not turned in to the horse). When the pelvis is at its highest possible point, the vaulter should lower the stretched right leg and land softly and centered on the horse's back, upper body vertical, ready to perform the Basic Seat.

BASIC SEAT: Vaulters sit astride, erect and centered immediately behind the surcingle. The vaulter's legs are stretched down and in contact with the horse, forming a straight vertical line through the shoulder, hip and heel. The vaulter's shoulders should be parallel to the handles of the surcingle. The vaulter's arms are extended outward along the frontal plane, with the tips of the fingers at eye level. Legs are down and the front of the knees, ankles and toes form a straight line facing nearly forward. The vaulter should be looking straight ahead and sitting comfortably on the horse's back. This position must be held a minimum of four strides. Upon completion of the exercise, the vaulter takes the grips with both hands simultaneously. NOTE: Senior Individual and Senior Team Event does not show the Basic Seat.

FLAG: From seat astride, the vaulter comes to a kneeling position with both legs simultaneously and diagonally across the horse's back to perform the Flag. Vaulters' weight is spread evenly over the lower leg. The lower leg, from knee to toe, remains in permanent contact with the horse's back. The vaulter's head should remain up and looking forward, as the right leg and left arm are raised simultaneously and stretched to an even horizontal line (at least above the vaulter's shoulder and hip; ideally a horizontal line from fingertip to head level and toes); There is an even arc in the vaulter's body from the hand through the foot.

Right hand holds the grip; the shoulders are directly above the grips and the vaulter's hips and shoulders are parallel to the ground. Upon completion of the Flag (held a minimum of 4 strides), the vaulter simultaneously brings his right leg and left arm down, takes the grips, pushes weight onto his arms and stretches the left leg down and slides softly into seat position.

MILL: The Mill is an exercise in which the vaulter must remain seated throughout the exercise. In no phase may he/she abandon the seat position.

From forward seat astride, the vaulter makes a complete rotation on the horse's back in 4 evenly-timed phases. Each leg is stretched and carried over the horse in a high, wide arc, like a semi-circle. The down leg remains stationary and in contact with the horse. The upper body stays upright, centered and nearly vertical in each phase. Head and body rotate with each leg pass. The Mill has four phases and is performed in a four-stride count.

Phase 1: The vaulter carries his/her right leg over the horse's neck. Each grip is released and retaken as the leg passes. Phase 1 ends with the vaulter sitting in a sideways seat, facing the longeur, legs together and in contact with the horse.

Phase 2: The left leg is carried over the horse's croup. Phase 2 ends with the vaulter sitting rearways. The hands change position on the grips.

Phase 3: The right leg is carried over the croup. Phase 3 ends with the vaulter sitting in a sideways seat, facing the outside of the circle, legs together and in contact with the horse. The hands change position on the grips.

Phase 4: The left leg is carried over the horse's neck. Each grip is released and retaken as the leg passes. Phase 4 ends with the vaulter sitting in forward seat astride.

SCISSORS 1st PART: From seat astride, the stretched legs are swung upward (back) to reach nearly a handstand position with arms extended to attain maximum elevation. Without interruption in this movement, and at nearly the point of maximum elevation, the hips are turned to the left by a quarter of a turn so that the legs pass closely at an equal distance from the ground. The exercise is fulfilled by landing softly, upright and centered in reverse seat.

SCISSORS 2nd PART: The rotation of the body is finished before the vaulter lands softly, upright and centered in seat astride. From reverse seat, the vaulter swings the stretched legs upward, with the hips and feet reaching the highest possible point at the same time. The arms are extended to attain maximum elevation. The angle between the arms and torso is as great as possible. Without interruption of movement, the hips are turned to the right so the legs pass closely and cross at nearly the point of maximum elevation. The legs show a high arc with both feet an equal distance from the ground.

GUIDELINES - Appendix D

The exercise is completed by landing softly, upright and centered in forward seat.

STAND: From seat astride, the vaulter comes softly to both knees simultaneously and immediately hops softly to both feet. Head remains up; eyes looking forward. The feet remain stationary with the vaulter's weight evenly distributed over the entire sole of the foot throughout the exercise. Feet are close at hip width and point forward. The grips are released simultaneously, as the vaulter rises to a high standing position, forming a straight line through the shoulder, hip and heel. The arms are immediately extended and stretched outward along the frontal plane, with the tips of the fingers at eye level. Upon completion of the static exercise (held for 4 strides), the arms are lowered alongside the body, and the vaulter reaches down to take the grips simultaneously with both hands. The head remains up, looking forward, while the vaulter slides smoothly with straight legs into astride position.

FLANK FIRST PART (GOLD AND SENIOR INDIVIDUAL, A TEAM AND SENIOR TEAM [3*]): A straight axis of the body, which reaches nearly the vertical is the essence of the optimal mechanics of the Flank. A straight line continues throughout the body from the arms to the feet. A straight body axis is the main criteria for judging. An arched back can be deceiving and can simulate a higher elevation.

From seat astride, the stretched legs are swung upward (back) to reach a handstand position with the arms extended to attain maximum elevation. Without interruption in the movement, at the point of maximum elevation, the hips are bent sharply so that the legs come down to a near vertical position (creating a pike) during which the hips are momentarily over the surcingle. The vaulter slides softly into an upright sideways seat inside position, making contact with the horse first with the outside of the lower right leg.

In A Team and Senior Team, the vaulter performs leg over, back to seat astride as follows: From inside seat, the vaulter carries the stretched right leg over the horse's neck in a high, wide arc (like a semi-circle). The upper body remains erect and nearly vertical, while the left leg remains down and in contact with the horse, with no change in position. Handles are released and retaken as the leg passes.

SWING OFF TO OUTSIDE FROM SEAT ASTRIDE (A TEAM AND SENIOR TEAM [3*]):

From seat astride, the stretched, closed legs are swung upward (back) to reach a handstand position with the arms extended to attain maximum elevation. At the maximum arm extension, the vaulter pushes against the grips (pushing back toward the rear of the horse), and as a result of shoulder repulsion attains additional elevation and maximum flight. The vaulter lands to the outside, facing forward, on both feet.

FLANK 2ND PART (GOLD AND SENIOR INDIVIDUAL [3*] INDIVIDUAL):

From an upright sideways (facing inside) seat, the vaulter swings the stretched, closed legs upward to reach a handstand position with the arms extended to attain maximum elevation. At maximum arm extension, the vaulter pushes against the handles and as a result of shoulder repulsion attains additional elevation and maximum flight, landing to the outside, facing forward, on both feet.

SWING OFF TO INSIDE FROM SEAT ASTRIDE (SILVER, BRONZE, JUNIOR INDIVIDUAL AND B, C AND JUNIOR TEAM [2*] ONLY):

From seat astride, the vaulter swings to handstand position with closed legs, arms extended to attain maximum elevation. At maximum arm extension, the vaulter pushes against the grips, (pushing back toward the rear of the horse), and as a result of shoulder repulsion, attains additional elevation and maximum flight, landing to the inside of the horse, facing forward, on both feet.

DESCRIPTION OF COPPER/TROT AND C/TROT TEAM, PRELIMINARY 2-PHASE TEAM COMPULSORY EXERCISES (1*)

MOUNT: See Compulsory 2* and 3* Mount

BASIC SEAT: See Compulsory 2* and 3* Basic Seat

FLAG: See 2* and 3* Compulsory Flag , except (1*): upon completion of the static exercise (Flag), the vaulter lowers the right leg to a bench position. The 1* Flag completes in the bench position.

STAND: The 1* Stand begins from bench position. The remainder of the exercise is performed as the 2* and 3* Compulsory Stand.

SWING FORWARD LEGS CLOSED: From seat astride, the stretched legs are swung upward (back) to reach a handstand position. The vaulter's arms are extended to attain maximum elevation. The vaulter's legs are closed and stretched at maximum elevation. Without interruption in the movement, and at the point of maximum elevation, the vaulter returns softly to seat astride.

A straight axis of the body which reaches nearly the vertical is the essence of the optimal mechanics of this exercise. A straight line continues throughout the body from the arms to the feet. A straight body axis is the main criteria for judging. An arched back can be deceiving and can simulate a higher elevation.

HALF-MILL: The Half-Mill has 2 phases. The vaulter may not abandon his/her seat position during either phase. The first phase is performed in a four-stride count, followed immediately by the second phase.

Phase 1: See 2* and 3* Compulsory Mill Phase 1

Phase 2: See 2* and 3* Compulsory Mill Phase 2.

SWING BACKWARDS, LEGS OPEN FOLLOWED BY DISMOUNT

TO INSIDE: From reverse seat, the vaulter swings his/her stretched and opened legs (hip width) upward, with the hips and feet reaching the highest possible point at the same time. The arms are extended to attain maximum elevation and the angle between arms and torso is as great as possible. Then the vaulter softly returns to reverse seat.

The vaulter then performs a reverse $\frac{1}{4}$ mill by carrying the stretched left leg over the horse's croup, in a high wide arc to inside seat. The vaulter, while holding the inside grip, rotates to facing forward. With closed legs and stretched hips, the vaulter pushes against the grips upwards and away from the horse. He releases the grips and lands with nearly closed legs and continues in the same direction as the horse.

Note: There is no separate score for the dismount. Faults in the dismount shall be deducted from the swing rearways.
